A CONCLUSION.

A Compromise Measure Finding Favor.

It Will Involve Concessions by Each Side,

But is Thought to Be the Only Alternative.

The President is Expected to Stand Out.

Senator Cameron Presents the Pennsylvania Resolution—A Lengthy Speech by Morgan—The Banking and Currency Committee Hearings.

By Telegraph to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) The Democratic repeal Senators have practically given up the idea that the Sherman law can be repealed unconditionally, and have after numerous conferences, decided upon a compromise, which they believe will end the long fight, and secure the passage of a bill to relieve the present situation by the end of next week.

Senator Morgan and other Democratic repeal Senators, are actively engaged in arranging the terms of a compromise, and tonight, it is believed, they succeeded. It involves concessions on both sides, the repeal of the purchase clause, the coinage of a specific amount, two or two and a half millions per month, until the total silver coinage is $700,000,000, then the coinage of all bullion in the treasury, and the sale of gold bonds to increase the gold reserve to an amount which is deemed sufficient to insure the maintenance of gold and silver money at par.

When the proposition was submitted to Secretary Carlisle, last night, he insisted upon the latter provision to the agreement. The general understanding tonight is that the silver Republican Senators agree to compromise. The only thing in the way of the compromise now seems to be the President.

FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) SENATE.—Senator Cameron of Pennsylvania presented a resolution for the repeal of the Sherman law, and asked legislation to retain the protective tariff and the integrity of silver as a money metal. He said signers represented $75,000,000 capital and a yearly product of $150,000,000.

The repeal bill was then taken up. Senator Harris of Tennessee spoke against it. He declared it practically meant a gold standard, as thereafter silver would only be used as a fractional currency. He favored the constitutional of all American silver, but hoped that Sherman would join him in re-habilitation of the silver dollar, and going back to that amount of coinage if not more.

Senator Sherman said he believed the continued purchase of silver, either under the Bland-Allison act, or the act issued to take up the Sherman bill, would eventually drive gold from circulation, and silver would be the only standard. Free coinage would have the same result, so he favored the abandonment of the system.

Continuing, Senator Harris quoted from a speech by Senator Voorhees, last February, in which he said he would have voted to take up the Sherman bill some days prior to that, but for the fact that "its passage would undoubtedly demonetize silver, and leave it supported by not one word of legislation."

Mr. Harris said: "I thought it an outrage to ask men like myself and others to absolutely sweep from under the silver currency every vestige of law. That is not what we meant at Chicago. When the Senator from Indiana (Voorhees) shall have passed the bill, as he probably will, he may find himself utterly powerless to carry any other law for the use of silver, or repeal another cent on the State bank circulation."

Senator Morgan of Alabama then addressed the Senate. He began by discussion of the probability of securing a treaty with Great Britain on the silver question, which he said, was very remote. International agreement in respect to monetary matters was impossible of execution and almost impossible in contemplating in a legal sense. In this cordial period, it would not do to offer such hopes as a solution of the trouble.

Referring to the repeal bill, Senator Morgan said: "Why this haste? Congress had better undertake to secure some other remedy than the Sherman law. We had better again declare our independence of Great Britain and maintain it than to undertake to flatter, cajolery, flattery and the like to persuade Great Britain to allow us to legislate for our people in the way that a government ought to legislate for its people."

Senator Allison observed that the United States had four times attempted to secure an international agreement. "Yes," said Senator Morgan, "and the Senator is now back from a recent conference, and it agreed that nothing could be done. After four of these disappointments, we want independence. We must be independent of Great Britain. The repealers know there is need of haste. They fear the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States on the case pending before that court, No. 15,949, entitled George S. Merritt et al. vs. Charles Foster, Secretary of the Treasury, the silver bullion case."

After talking for two hours, Morgan suddenly diverged from the legal argument, that the right of an owner of silver bullion to have it coined free and without limitation still existed, and said: "No man, whatever his powers may be, can exonerate me from the discharge of my duty to grant to the people all their constitutional rights, nor can any man crowd me into silence when I choose to speak. This is the arena in which I have the honor to be one of the ambassadors of a sovereign State, whose suffrage shall not be taken away from her without her consent, and where I have, if I have anywhere in this world, the right of full and free speech. The least man in Alabama—the poorest negro in Alabama—is entitled to constitutional rights at my hands as much as the President of the United States. He shall have them if I know how to give them."

In the colloquy between Senator Hawley of Connecticut and himself as to Cleveland, Senator Morgan said the President seemed to represent both parties. He certainly represented the Senator from Connecticut, who is following him now.

"One thing," said Senator Hawley, "and for a short while; temporary allies under a brief coalition, and for a particular purpose," said Senator Morgan, bitterly. Morgan did not concede his speech, in reply to a question from Senator Voorhees, he said he would not go on in the morning.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The debate on the Tuckey bill repealing the Federal Election Bill, was resumed. Representative Lacey of Iowa spoke in opposition thereto. He said the bill was inopportune. No Federal election took place till 1894, yet at this crisis, with an extraordinary session of Congress to deal with an extraordinary situation, this bill was dragged into the arena. What was the reason? The Democratic party was confronted with a great danger, last fall, by fusion in some States, and by chicanery in others.

The President has attempted to carry out the program against silver, but had split his party in twain. Suddenly, by decree of the party caucus, this bill was brought in. Why? To heal the breach; to rally the whole strength of the party with the war-cry: "Down with the Federal supervision of elections." Mr. Lacey laid great stress on the question of these laws, and then began to speak of the alleged election outrages in the South, bringing on a wordy exchange with Representative Talbot of South Carolina, when he had reached that State, Mr. Lacey getting the best of the encounter.

After Mr. Lacey's speech, Representative McMillan of South Carolina replied to the strictures on that State. He favored local self-government.

Representative Wilson of Washington wanted to know if the Democratic party favored home rule, why Cleveland appointed Southern men to places in Minnesota, North and South Dakota and other Northern States.

Representative Deamond of Missouri followed in support of the measure. Representative Gillette of Massachusetts, after Mr. Deamond finished, and spoke against repeal. Messrs. Gillette and Warner entered into a heated altercation about the existence of affairs in New York. The existence of Tammany Hall, Mr. Gillette said, was undesirable to good men of both parties in New York City. Tammany was an unscrupulous, unprincipled organization, with no sentiment higher than spoils. He contended that it was absurd to go into the constitutionality of the Sherman law after the Supreme Court elections.

Gen. Joe Wheeler of Virginia followed with a vigorous speech in support of the measure. He graphically painted a picture of the tyranny that obtained in the South as the result of these laws.

Senator Blair of New Hampshire, Mr. Blair's throat was so affected that he was forced, after explaining his idea of the immense importance of the question which involved the falsity and error of the pernicious Sherman law, to leave the floor.

The House at 4:15 p.m., adjourned.

BANKING AND CURRENCY.

Public Hearings by the House Committee are begun.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) The public hearings by the House Banking and Currency Committee began this morning. Representative Carter of Alabama argued in favor of his bill to allow national banks to loan on real estate and for the suspension of the 10 per cent. tax on State bank circulation.

VIENNA, Sept. 29.—(By Cable and Associated Press.) The excitement over the discovery of the Anarchist plot, is still at fever heat. Four Anarchist workmen were arrested today, and more arrests are hourly expected. A large number of those known to be connected with Anarchistic societies have hastily left the city. All public buildings are carefully guarded by police. These precautions will be continued as long as Parliament is in session. The police are in possession of the facts of the greatest interest to the police of several European capitals as well as of Chicago and New York. They decline to divulge the particulars, but it is known they have established beyond a doubt the connection between the Austrian plotters and the Anarchists of Chicago and New York.

PLOTTING IN CHICAGO.

Expose of some of the Work Planned by the Reds.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) When shown a cablegram from Vienna regarding the Anarchist plots there, a well-known Chicago official now in this city said it was well known to the Chicago secret police that the Anarchists of Vienna, Paris and London were in constant communication with those of Chicago and New York. He declared that a plot similar to that in Vienna was hatched in Chicago a year and a half ago, but nothing was said about it for fear of exciting a riot and injuring the reputation of the city. He said that the Chicago City Hall and several buildings in the course of construction at the World's Fair grounds. Superintendent of Police McClaughrey by vigorous action wiped their plans in the bud.

An Idaho Footpad Compelled to Disgorge— Meeting of the State Horticultural Society—Regulaers Set Against the Yuma Indians.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) The superintendent of the Southern Pacific office at Sacramento has wired to the railroad officials here, that about 200 tramps are en route to that city, coming from Portland and other points North and East. The superintendent is asked for orders as to the course he should pursue. He said about 100 of them had traveled on passenger trains out of Ashland, and had defied the train-hands for a time in their effort to eject them. They were finally put off in Humboldt, but were picked up by the following freight and again brought on their way.

In addition to this gang, 100 more had started out of Red Bluff this morning on a freight, and members of both of these parties openly stated that they were merely an advance guard of what was to come. The crew on the passenger train were kept busy in their effort to keep the fellows off, and the latter were unsparing in their threats to get even with the railroad company for ejecting them. They crowded over the roofs of the cars, and some of the more venturesome rode on brakebeams and even on the pilot of the train. They have stopped it in towns where they have stopped it, and it is reported that chicken-coops and other storehouses of material for food had suffered severely, and much apprehension was felt as to what would be the result of the incoming of the travelers. No efforts were made to put them off the freight trains, and action would only lead to trouble.

General Superintendent Fillmore telegraphed instructions to carry the men back in the woods, where they were, and too large numbers to be kept off. Speaking of the matter Mr. Fillmore said that he could do nothing else. Some of the fellows were undoubtedly desperate characters, from the telegraphed reports, and if force were used it might not only be disastrous to the railroad company, but to the traveling public also. If the advance contingent makes good time, it may be expected in this city on Sunday.

AT SACRAMENTO. SACRAMENTO, Sept. 29.—Eighty tramps who boarded a freight-train in Oregon, reached this place late tonight. The rest stopped along the road. They had no trouble with the trainmen. Most of them proved to be from the Idaho mines, which have been shut down. They are going on south from here. No serious depredations have been committed by those here.

THE HORSE TO BLAME.

Theory as to the Death of Geary of Grapeland. SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) The body of a man found in Lytle Creek Canyon, a few days ago, was found to be that of Mr. Geary of Grape Land. A key found on the body of the deceased fits his door, and his shotgun was found in the bushes near by. The indications are that Geary was hit on the horse, and that the horse, becoming unmanageable, started to run. Geary's gun then caught in some bushes and became discharged. The charge penetrated the horse's head, and he dashed to the precipice, and, stopping suddenly, threw the body into the gulch where it was found in decomposed condition. The horse then made its way home and was taken care of by neighbors.

THE DYNAMITERS.

The Police are Satisfied That Sorensen is Not

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) It was quite thoroughly demonstrated that Axel Sorensen, the sailor whose name was on the valise found filled with dynamite, did not explode the bomb in front of the Clinton's boarding-house, Saturday night. The clerk at the hotel at which the valise was left says Sorensen is not the man who left it there, and it is thought his name was put on the valise as a trick to throw the police off the track of the real dynamite fiend. Although the Chief of Police is confident of Sorensen's innocence, he will be glad to await further developments.

At the Coroner's inquest this morning, William Graham, a engineer, testified that a few minutes before the explosion he saw John Tyrrell and two other men in the back yard of Doyle's boarding-house, near the scene of the explosion. Tyrrell carried a bundle. Tyrrell is the man who was arrested shortly after the explosion on suspicion. He was in bed when arrested, and said he had been there all of the evening. Graham is positive that Tyrrell is the man he saw, and another witness has also testified that he saw Tyrrell running away after the explosion.

THE FRUIT-GROWERS.

The State Horticultural Society Discusses

Marketing of Products. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.) The special call for a meeting of the California State Horticultural Society, which was held today, announced that the session would be wholly given up to matters involved in the district marketing of California fruits. There was a large attendance, and three hours' time was spent in the free interchange of views, not only of the fruit-growers themselves, but of the managers of organizations, the traffic men and commission merchants.

The discussion of the question in hand brought out prominently and unmistakably the one important fact that the future prosperity of the fruit industry of California is contingent on getting the product to market within the scheduled time. Among the speakers were S. J. Stahler of Sutter county, S. M. Buck, manager of the California Fruit Union; A. G. Freeman, E. W. Maslin, Dr. W. B. Gibson of Alameda, and M. Montague of Tulare. Richard Gray, the traffic manager of the Southern Pacific Company, was also invited to speak. He promised that anything the railroad company could do to promote the fruit industry of California would be its careful study. He denied that the company had failed in its fruit service, and declared that it had kept up to the letter and spirit of its agreements.

FOR THE PLAINTIFF.

A Suit on Prior Mortgage Decided.

Lack of Knowledge Furnished No Defense.

Notice of the Deed Was Notice of Its Contents.

Two Persons Admitted to Citizenship by the Superior Judges—Probate and Other Orders Made—Court Notes—New Suits.

In the case of the Savings Bank of Southern California vs. Minerva Barr et al, Judge Van Dyke yesterday rendered his decision in favor of the plaintiff.

The defendant Barr mortgaged certain property, in dispute to the plaintiff, and afterward executed a deed in form of grant to the defendant, Mrs. Thornton. The deed to Mrs. Thornton contained a clause wherein the grantee assumed to pay the mortgage to the plaintiff. This deed to Mrs. Thornton was intended as security for a loan of indebtedness, with the understanding between the parties that if the debt were not paid by a fixed time the title should become absolute in Mrs. Thornton, without foreclosure, and that she should sell the property and pay the plaintiff and herself. The transaction on the part of Mrs. Thornton was carried on with her father, who acted as her agent, but she testified that she was ignorant of the clause imposing the obligation upon her part to pay the prior mortgage. She had knowledge, however, of the transaction with Barr, and of the taking of the deed by way of security, for about a year prior to her father's death. After her father's death, and early in the present year, she said that she first discovered the fact that the deed to her contained the clause in question; and, after the institution of the suit, she attempted to rescind the deed or agreement taken by her father, but the defendant Barr refused to receive her deed of conveyance.

In the opinion filed, the court states that "Mrs. Thornton having had notice of the deed executed to her through her father, as agent, will be held to have had notice of its contents, and of the obligations contained therein on her part to pay the plaintiff's mortgage."

"A person holding title, or acquiring any right under a written instrument is conclusively presumed to have notice of the contents thereof, although the contents are actually unknown. The truth of the facts recited from the record in a written instrument between the parties thereto, or their successors in interest by subsequent title, is deemed a conclusive presumption, except as to consideration."

The grantee of a mortgage, who assumes the payment of a mortgage, becomes primarily responsible to the mortgagee for the debt, and he may be sued by the mortgagee in the foreclosure, and a deficiency judgment taken against him. And where a deed as intended as a mortgage, the assumption by the grantee or subsequent to prior mortgage will bind him.

"By accepting the deed the grantee binds himself as effectually as by executing and signing it, and this is whether the acceptance is by agent or personally, such a stipulation in a deed or mortgage by the owner of the property to a subsequent grantee or mortgagee inures to the benefit of the first mortgagee, and may be enforced by him. Judgment for the plaintiff."

FEDERAL COURTS.

In the case of Michael Schwartz of Acton, who was on trial for "jumping" government land, Judge Rose, in the District Court, yesterday instructed the jury to acquit.

Martin Johansen and Leonard Humph, two sailors from the fishing sloop Alfa, who brought suit against the Los Angeles Fishing Company for balance of wages due, were yesterday non-suited in the District Court, and the libel on the vessel ordered dismissed.

The case of the United States vs. Augustus Miller of Havilar, Cal., who was charged before United States Commissioner Van Dyke, with selling liquor without having paid the government tax, was yesterday dismissed. It was shown that Miller had paid the tax, but had failed to post it conspicuously as required by law.

Court Notes.

George C. Gates was admitted to practice in the superior courts of this county yesterday by Judge Van Dyke, upon motion and presentation of a certificate from the Supreme Court of Kansas.

A decree for plaintiff was awarded yesterday in Department One in the case of J. H. Watson vs. George L. Mesinger et al.

Judge Clark made orders in the Probate Court yesterday as follows: Estate of William Wilson, deceased, will be admitted to probate; Estate of William T. Knight, deceased, sale of realty confirmed.

The plaintiff, Kate Miles, was yesterday granted a decree of foreclosure in her suit against Joseph Hammon et al, by Judge Clark.

Johannes Goetz, a young German from the country, took advantage of his trip to town yesterday to call on the County Clerk and get a marriage license, and then he applied to Judge Van Dyke for admission to citizenship. The judge being satisfied with the man's qualifications, directed the clerk to administer the usual oath of renunciation and allegiance. Judge Clark performed a like service for Edward W. Ackerman, a native of England.

Departments Four and Two were the only county courts in session yesterday. Judge Clark of Department Two left on the afternoon train for Pasadena, where he will remain until Tuesday, enjoying a brief rest, of which he is in so much need after his recent severe illness.

Judge Rose did not hold court yesterday, consequently nothing further was done in the matter of Chinese deportation. As to the shipment of the twenty-five heathen already sentenced Marshal Gard received a dispatch from Washington stating that money was already on the way to pay the expenses of their deportation.

WE want one or two first-class dress goods salesmen—must be active and energetic and of good address. It is not cheap men we want; a good man will always command good wages. The dress goods trade is growing on the line of moderate prices. We catch the masses with moderate-priced goods and obviate the necessity of cutting the profits at the end of the season on high-cost novelties. It enables us to make lower prices all through the season on desirable goods. Lower prices in Velvets and Velveteens; largest Velvet stock in Los Angeles—every desirable shade now in stock. Best line of Black Velvets and Black Velveteens; blacks are undesirable unless they have a richness to them; they cannot have this richness without an extra heavy pile. The color is the worth in a velvet; we hunt for desirable shades. Black Velvets should have a rich, mellow look—then perfection in black is reached. Just a touch of active selling in All-wool Novelties at 60c and 65c a yard; exact reproductions of high-cost novelties; who knows the difference? We study the economical question in buying for your benefit. Cooler weather brings greater buying to the mammoth Cloak Department; plenty of new cloaks at our new prices; down go the figures. We hold an advantage over all others in the lowness of selling cloaks—we divide up the rent, we divide up all other expenses and reduce the minimum of selling to the lowest notch. One price, plain figures, ample stocks, new styles. Today we will place on sale a big lot of Children's Cloaks at a very low price; ages 4 to 18 years; $3.50 up to $5 each. A lot of odds and ends on the half-price tables; the best will soon be taken; why not look them over before the choice is taken? There is a choice. Only house that cuts, fits and bastes capes free for all who buy their materials here. The most liberal in all things. Do you need a Corset? If you do try a Worth model in the Royal Worcesters; the prices range from a dollar up; the Royal Worcester is the best in every way. We want you to read our special advertisement in Sunday's paper in reference to the Royal Worcester Corset. Come today and have one fitted—they have no equal in fit. When any one tells you they have a corset just as good as the Royal Worcester they pay us the highest compliment. No one claims to have a better. Why not try the best in the start.

Tennis Tournament Entries for Today's Contests.

A Good Field of Talent—Death of Mrs. Ninde. An Anniversary—Need of More Houses—Some Local Brevities.

A tennis tournament, under the auspices of the Pasadena Tennis Club, will take place today (Saturday) upon the Walnut street court, beginning at 8:30 o'clock a.m., and continuing all day. It will be participated in by Pasadena's best talent, as the following entries for singles and doubles amply attest: Louis Freeman, Fred Rochi, Don McGilvray, Oliver Picher, Rob Rowan, Rob Collingwood, Charles Groesbeck, Joseph Solomon, Prof. J. D. Graham, Harold Channing, Fred Buchanan, Irving Allen, John Black, Bruce Rowan, Peter Palmatier, Will Allen, Kimball Ferguson, John Daggett, Ben Walbridge, and Will Merwin.

DEATH OF MRS. NINDE.

Edith Alice, wife of Albert H. Ninde, died at her home, No. 384 Adella street, Thursday evening, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Ninde was a bride of a year only. She was the daughter of R. H. Brown, an ex-leader of the "Hayden" party. For more than a fortnight before her death she lay unconscious. The funeral will be from the residence on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

AN ANNIVERSARY.

Friday was the thirty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of J. S. Black and wife, and not to allow the occasion to pass wholly unnoted, a very pleasant little celebration was indulged in, to which the invited guests joyfully repaired. The residence was prettily decorated during the day, and the evening was given over to social enjoyments appropriate to so auspicious an occasion.

A CRYING NEED.

Pasadena needs more houses, and needs them badly, and needs them now. Here it is, barely the last of September, and the call for family accommodations is already crowding the summer. Yet the winter residents have scarcely begun to come, and the flood of climate refugees has not even started. What will the condition be a month hence? What will it be before the beginning of December, the time that cold weather begins to make itself really felt in the homes of Pasadena? What hundreds who would choose to spend from three to six months here will simply have to go elsewhere, for there will not be house room for them. This is not as it should be. There is splendid opportunity here for a safe investment of some of the funds which the business faculty has recently cut out of more speculative channels. Economically built houses do not suspend payments. The demand for them is constantly increasing, and for years yet will continue to increase. Who will build them?

PASADENA BREVITIES.

Attend Glasscock's special sale today. Today is the time to buy stationery. Glasscock's special sale of stationery. Judge W. H. Clark of Los Angeles is guest of A. R. Metcalf. City Attorney Arthur spent Friday at home on account of indisposition. At the Brunswick Hall watch-drawing Peter Stell has a lucky number. The "Boy in the Wood" has just received a full line of trimming silks in all shades. No Eastern mail on Friday was one of the inconveniences due to the Santa Fe washouts. Mrs. John Penner has returned from her Eastern trip. She is at the E. C. Webster mansion. Seymour Loch is building a very pretty cottage on Grand avenue, south of Prof. Taylor's place.

Workmen on Friday began the work of relaying the water pipes along Fair Oaks avenue and Colorado street. Mrs. E. A. Rand and Mrs. Charles Putnam returned Friday evening from a three weeks' stay at Long Beach. Mrs. E. A. Mote returned on Friday from an extended Eastern visit, which has kept her from home since July 5. W. B. McCormick, formerly resident here, will bring his family back from Whittier if he can find a suitable house. Mr. Green, retired army officer, has brought his family from San Francisco. They have taken a house on Old Fair Oaks avenue.

The pavement is going down at a satisfactory rate. Who will stand sponsor for the street-car track is still an open question.

Friday was that unusual thing—a day without sunshine. The wisecracks predict rain, and the fruit-drivers and cabbies hope they are wrong. Several Pasadena parties have found it convenient to postpone their time of starting for the East, by reason of the Santa Fe's misfortune of floods.

A large delegation from the Salvation Army of Los Angeles came up Friday evening to take part in the "Arizona roundup" of the local corps.

S. S. Vandervoort, who has been here some months, after having been in his family from Chicago, and they will make Pasadena their future home.

The submerged ties of the abandoned street-car track on South Raymond avenue have been examined and a rough count of the street is the result.

Dr. Belknap is lessee of the Richmond property on Chestnut street, and he is now here engaged in putting the house in condition for sanitarium purposes.

Dr. Jaynes and family have arrived from Newark, N. J., and are temporarily at the Carleton. The doctor was here last winter and became attached to the place and its attractions. He will settle here with his family.

The Hendricks Case Dismissed—A Young Man Arrested for Stealing Whisky.

E. M. Hendricks, the young man who was arrested several days ago for embezzlement, can consider himself quite fortunate, and has reason to thank the employer whom he robbed and the District Attorney's office for preventing him from being held to answer to a felony charge in the Superior Court. He was before Justice Willis yesterday for examination, when E. M. Culp, the complaining witness, stated that all of the $55 with which the defendant had been charged in the complaint with "stealing" was the various sums not mentioned in the complaint, had been refunded by the young man's friends. He therefore did not desire to prosecute him if it could be avoided. The District Attorney, who had therefore amended the complaint, so that it appeared that the $55 alleged to have been taken was taken in small sums of less than $50, which made the offense a series of misdemeanors rather than one felony. Under this state of facts, full satisfaction having been acknowledged, the charge was dismissed by the Justice.

ORANGE COUNTY.

Some Interesting Statistics About Sugar Beets.

The World-beating Quality of the Product—Escape of a Lunatic—Safe Robbery at Buena Park—Notes and Personal.

Orange county is making a great reputation as a beet-producing county. The sugar beets this year have been richer in saccharine matter than any other beets raised in the State. Such results are remarkable when it is considered that much of the land upon which the beets are grown was considered "green land," and not best for the production of the succulent product.

At the present time the people of Orange, and of other counties in Southern California, are more or less interested in the cultivation of the beet, and the establishment of beet-sugar factories throughout the southern portion of the State. The following paragraphs, therefore, from the Anaheim Gazette will be interesting reading: "E. A. Sparks's sugar beets brought into the warehouse last Saturday, 500 tons of experience, and the beet-sugar quality of Mr. Loomis's product. Mr. Sparks's beets polarized 24.5 per cent. of saccharine, and the coefficient of purity was 95 per cent. He has a total of 100 tons, weighing 12,500 pounds, and the checks received for them call for $420. Twenty dollars a load for beets is not bad. Mr. Loomis's beets polarized 25.3. So it will be seen that Mr. Sparks's beets are entitled to the medal.

J. W. McKenney of Buena Park is one of the well-satisfied beet raisers on his way, and will put in beets again next year. Where he made $100 this year in coin, he says, he expects to make $200 next year. He fully expects the return for his crop next season to be the equal of that of any beet-raiser in the valley.

When the crop is in from Buena Park on Monday, he is enthusiastic over the beet outlook, the Park having shipped 500 tons to China, and thinks that in the coming time he will have a string of refineries stretching from Buena Park down to the peat lands.

The beet warehouse at the Southern Pacific depot was a quiet place during Saturday and Sunday, no beets being received, as Mr. Gird had retired, and no special favor to the beets was shipped for two days, on account of the bins at the China factory being filled to overflowing. The beets are going out every day again now. At first it was thought that the farmers had a hard time of it, but they have demonstrated their ability to load more than that number of cars, and several loads of beets have been put in double that number per day if necessary. Shipments from Buena Park have ceased for the season, 1,305 tons of beets having been shipped to China. There are yet in the neighborhood of twenty-five hundred tons to be shipped from this point.

Shipments of beets from the outgoing tonnage during the week being as follows:

September 29—Buena Park, three cars, 64,000 pounds; Buena Park, two cars, 37,045 pounds.

September 22—Anaheim, twelve cars, 25,385 pounds.

September 23—Anaheim, eleven cars, 23,250 pounds.

September 27—Anaheim, thirteen cars, 25,945 pounds.

Buena Park finished on the 21st, having shipped in all eighty-three cars, 1,305,100 pounds.

There are still about twenty-five hundred tons to ship from here, which, at the rate of 125 to 130 tons a day, will keep us busy till about the 10th or 15th of October.

The farmers need not feel uneasy about their beets not going to China, as they will be taken to the very last ton.

I. N. Devaul, also of Garden Grove, brought a beet up yesterday weighing thirty-three pounds.

W. H. McLean of Garden Grove has just finished his six acres sown the 27th of March, and they have averaged thirty tons to the acre and about 15 per cent. Following are some of the best tests made during the week:

YOUNG BOTTLER AT HOME.

Conway Boteler, the young man from this city who was sent to the insane asylum in the northern part of the State some months ago, arrived in Santa Ana late Thursday evening, having escaped from the asylum at San Bernardino, where he had been brought from the North only a few weeks ago.

The officers were notified Friday that he was in town, and at once began to search for him. He was found in the afternoon, and while in charge of the Sheriff that officer the ship when in a store by walking to the rear, saying that he wanted to get a drink of water. As the boy was a little slow in returning the Sheriff went to the rear of the store to see what he was doing, but he was gone. Search was again instituted for him, but up to a late hour in the afternoon he had not been found.

PROBABLE DEPORTATION.

There is a probability that two or more Chinamen in this county will be arrested today or Monday, as proper subjects for deportation. Since the arrest of some of the Mongolians at Redlands and San Bernardino, this county seems to have become a dumping ground for the shiftless and criminal element of the presbytery.

It is claimed that fully 100 San Bernardino and Redlands Chinamen have been added to the population of this county during the past few weeks, and more are coming. A representative from this city will go to Los Angeles today, and before his return will probably lodge complaints against at least two of the sons of the Orient.

It was reported that the city Friday that Diablos, one of the great Northern pacers, had gone lame and had been retired for the season, consequently he would not run in Santa Ana the second week of October to go in the great free-for-all pacing race. As yet the report has not been verified.

A correspondent writing from Westminster to a local paper, says: "Those of our farmers who have raised sugar beets the past season, are about done harvesting their crop, and are comparing the percentage and tonnage. According to reports it would take two or three factories as large as the one at China to work up the beets next season, if we just get a railroad. We have had a number of narrow-gauge roads, and wind and gas railroads, but the beet-raisers want something practical."

The Orange County Fair Association has reported to the Board of Supervisors their statements of the number of jackrabbits scalps deposited with them during the first month of the twenty-cent bounty, and they show that it is going to cost the county a good round sum to get rid of what can be killed before December 6, 1893, the date upon which the bounty expires. It is estimated that each of the outside localities in the county will furnish a programme upon one evening during the week, and in order that there may be a western in the matter, localities desiring to furnish a programme for an evening should arrange with Mrs. Schrack, who has full charge of that department.

There was an exciting runaway on the Santa Ana racetrack Friday morning. Jennie June, the little Riverside mare, driven by J. H. ## SAN BERNARDINO.

Movement for the Reduction of Official Salaries.

The Subject to Be Discussed at the Meeting of the Supervisors Today—General News Notes and Personal Mention.

The meeting of the county supervisors today promises to be a most interesting one. Among other important matters to be discussed and decided, if possible, is that of salaries of the county officers. The chairman of the board has seen the heads of departments to address communications to the board recommending a cut for their respective deputies be decreased, the amount varying from 10 per cent. for the smaller salaries, to 15 per cent. for the larger. To this request the heads of departments acceded, save the Democratic ones. These refused to recommend a cut for their deputies. The salaries of the Sheriff, Register, County Clerk and clerk of the board, are fixed by law, and the supervisors cannot reduce them without their consent. But it is believed now that the supervisors will propose to the heads of departments to make a general cut all through, of from 10 to 15 per cent, and ask all to agree to it, and that in consideration of this, the supervisors will reduce their per diem allowance from $8 to $7. The proposition is a fair one, if he executed in spirit as well as letter. The reduction in the instance of the other offices would be a straight cut of the per cent named, while in the instance of the board, it might be a cut in name only, if the board should so choose to make it, for the reduction in per diem would be a cut in fact, and an increase in the number of meetings per diem.

But it is not presumed that the supervisors have in mind to, or that they will take advantage of this opportunity to keep up their salaries, while those of the other officers are cut. Besides the salary question, other very important business will come up for consideration.

The justices of the peace are filling with the clerk of the Board of Supervisors their statements of the number of jackrabbits scalps deposited with them during the first month of the twenty-cent bounty, and they show that it is going to cost the county a good round sum to get rid of what can be killed before December 6, 1893, the date upon which the bounty expires. ### NOT A CRIME.

Poverty and Want of Work Constitute No Offense.

District Attorney Directs a Caustic Epistle to Justice Barnes of Pomona--Claims on Vagrancy Convictions Should Be Diminished.

Several months ago the Board of Supervisors had a circular letter addressed to all of the constables and justices of the peace throughout the county, recommending to them that they pay more attention to real criminals and not send in so many vagrants to be a drain upon the treasury. To this laudable recommendation the constables have paid heed, but it appears that others have not, judging from the number of the following communication, prepared by the District Attorney for mailing to Justice Barnes of Pomona, yesterday:

"Dear Sir: Your favor of recent date to the Board of Supervisors has been referred to this office.

"The reason your claim for July was cut was because of the number of vagrancy cases reported by you. The Board of Supervisors are of the opinion that it is not a very serious crime of the Board of Supervisors, that they are entirely too much expense has been imposed upon the people for the prosecution of this class of cases. Being thoroughly satisfied on this proposition, the Board, some three or four months since, passed a circular, recommending that you be sent to every justice and constable in this county, urging upon them the propriety of doing less of this kind of business.

"The wishes of the Board were generally respected by justices. The cost to the county for the prosecution of vagrants, as expressed in said circular, was from $2000 per month to less than $200 per month. Many of the justices have reported no vagrancy cases since that time.

"Only two justices, a Mr. Reed of San Fernando, and yourself, have manifested a disposition to ignore the wishes of the Board, as expressed in said circular. Some two months since the Board cut out of Mr. Reed's claim twenty-five vagrancy cases in one month, and in your July claim they allowed you for five vagrancy cases out of nine reported.

"The expenses of this county are necessarily very great, and the Board are it their duty to cut off all unnecessary and uncalled for expenses. The Board does not believe that it is necessary to prosecute the taxpayers of this county $15,000 to $25,000 per year for the prosecution of vagrants, and they trust that they will have the cooperation of all good citizens in their efforts to cut down expenses.

"The reports of the justices for the last three or four months do not, on average, contain more than one vagrancy case, and the Board is of the opinion that that is as many as ought to be returned.

"Owing to the failure of former justices to raise the amount required by law for the sinking fund, the Board this year have been obliged to assess $20,000 to make up the shortage on the usual levy. This sum, in addition to the heavy taxes, will make our taxes very heavy. The cost to the county of the nine vagrancy cases reported by you in July if allowed in full would amount to $115.50.

"To this should be added the meals furnished the vagrants, the transportation at the County Jail, and expense of keeping them in the Pomona Jail, which will make the total expense exceed $125, or on an average of $13.88 for each tramp.

"There are in the county forty-nine justices. If each of them returned one case of vagrancy business that you returned in July, it would cost the county $6125 per month, or $73,500 per year.

"You can see at a glance that the Board of Supervisors ought to be impeached and removed from office if they permitted the taxpayers to be burdened with such charges.

"The Board feels satisfied that when you think the matter over you will commend them for their efforts to lighten the burdens of the people."

THE POLICE COURTS.

The battery case against Vincent McGiverty was tried before Justice Austin yesterday. The defendant is the man who struck O. F. Joyaux in the jaw while at Westlake Park one Sunday several weeks ago. Joyaux, who sent a sorry appearance with his broken jaw bandaged. McGiverty was found guilty as charged, and time of sentence was fixed for this afternoon.

F. G. Walters, who was arrested by Officer McGiverty of Chinatown the night before after he had been representing himself to be a United States deputy marshal, was arraigned on a charge of petty larceny. He pleaded a plea of not guilty, and his trial was set for October 10.

Fred Baker, the able-bodied man who had been brought in by Officer Bates the night before and found to have an arm which was bandaged, but which was entirely sound, pleaded guilty to the charge of vagrancy. He will be sentenced today.

Ed Beach and V. B. Langdon, who had previously been convicted of vagrancy, were given respectively twenty-five and thirty days each. They were tough-looking characters, and have bad reputations.

S. P. Richards, who was caught by Officer Talmage in the act of burglary at an early hour last Sunday morning, was in court for preliminary examination. He was ordered held for the Superior Court, and his bail was fixed in the sum of $1000.

MISERIES OF CATARRH.

Complete Relief and Quick Cure

By the New Method of Treatment.

Mr. Walter Greenwood, who lives at 400 South Fremont street, another enthusiast who cannot speak too highly of the success of the new method of treatment. He makes the following statement:

"I know what it is to suffer the miseries of catarrh. I did for about three years. The least exposure gave me a cold. Changing from heavy to light-weight clothing I would suffer with a severe cold for weeks. In fact I believe these frequent colds caused all my trouble.

"I had a watery discharge from the nostrils. My throat was most always sore. I had a very severe cough and a constant hacking and spitting. This led to pain in my chest and soreness over the lungs. My stomach became affected, and I could not eat in the morning without nausea.

"My friends advised me to try Dr. De Monco and associates. After a time I concluded I would, so I put myself under their treatment.

"Now, after a partial course of their treatment, I feel first-class. I am perfectly satisfied with the results and cannot recommend Dr. De Monco and associates to all sufferers highly enough."

Under the new system patients treating by mail have the advantage of a careful and accurate diagnosis, with watchful attention paid to the details of every case, and medicines specially prepared for each individual patient, with the constant aid of skillful and successful specialists.
